You are given a pencil, an unmarked ruler (straight edge), and a big sheet of squared graph paper.

The challenge is to draw on that paper a square which has area exactly two times the area of one of the squares on the graph paper.

After that, explain how to draw a square which has exactly five times the area of one of the little squares.